What You'll Walk Away With

- ◆ A clear, confident mentor coaching identity: Role clarity, ethics, standards and agreements
- ◆ Ability to give formative feedback to develop coaches: Respectful, bias-aware formative feedback
- ◆ A calibrated lens for listening and noticing at each credential level: Evidence-based observation and formative appraisal
- ◆ Practical tools, documentation templates and readiness for MCS: A developmental feedback framework

OUR DISTINCTIVE EMPHASIS

Good intentions do not automatically create developmental impact. This program strengthens the mentor coach's ability to notice bias, separate evidence from interpretation, and offer feedback that develops the coach rather than reproducing a preferred style.
